

EHEDG NZ Committee Member Profile.

Name: Rex Johnstone

Company: Nourritech Ltd

Position: Director

Location: Christchurch

Committee Role: General Member (Process Engineering Sector)

Biography:

Rex has over 30 years' experience working in a range of manufacturing companies as a process engineer, design manager and project manager.

A professional chemical and process engineer his specialisation is in the food & beverage sector. He has led or provided technical leadership for many significant projects within food and beverage companies involved in dairy, fruit juice, chocolate, sugar confectionery and coffee production.

In addition, Rex has general management experience and provided process technical support for a manufacturer of personal care and chemical products.

Rex also has competencies in manufacturing site master planning, concept development and feasibility studies for new process or process upgrades, HAZOP and Safety in Design facilitation, and new product development and operations, having contributed with these elements to many projects.

Rex runs his own engineering consultancy Nourritech Ltd based in the Christchurch, NZ. He specialises in Food Process Engineering, providing manufacturing and food process advice to a range of food manufacturers throughout NZ.

August 2025